Hérétique are three talented young Englishmen with a passion for European traditional music. The band is an energetic mix of vocals, accordion, bagpipes, hurdy gurdy, guitar and recorder. Their music is an exciting blend of Anglo-French traditional dance, with a smidgeon of jazz and contemporary classical, and a healthy dollop of pop culture, film and TV references on the side.

In performance they are determined that their audiences have a good time and they go all the way to help you enjoy this infectious music. There's plenty of chat, laughter and showmanship and their musicianship is excellent. There are lots of musical surprises too so don't be astonished to hear the theme from the 'The A Team' popping up in the middle of a traditional French Bourée, or an elegant madrigal slipping into a Russian drinking song or a well-known bit of Bach!

"Hérétique are young, talented and rather silly!" - Bright Young Folk review "I think the music is gorgeous" - Genevieve Tudor, BBC Radio
